Proposed Kennecott Tailings Expansion Project

What: Kennecott Utah Copper LLC has applied for a permit under Section 404 of the Clean Water Act to expand their existing tailings impoundment and to construct an additional tailings storage facility. The proposed project would impact approximately 721 acres of waters of the US, including wetlands.

Why: The Corps is conducting public scoping meetings in preparation of their environmental document. You are invited to learn more about the project, view displays, meet project representatives, ask questions and provide comments.
